INDEX

Aug 11 1974

Dear Clyde:

Ten books are being shipped to you tomorrow. Marian thought it best to ship them to your office.

I was sorry not to see you and Florence when you were here. Also I was sorry to hear about your fire. Hope it wasn't too bad. It should have started in your wine cellar rather than your library!!

Please accept my negligent, but ~~my~~ sincere thanks for your wonderful new Concordex. I, along with all of those with whom I have talked, think it is simply great. I am sure the index will not be published for years, but even after it is, I feel sure there are many who will continue to refer to the Concordex, as much or more, than the index; so I would suggest you keep the presses running. //

Best wishes and love

Leone
